

Food for thought: There are years that ask questions and years that answer.

Ain't that the truth! Plenty of question marks in my year so far and we are barely two months into it. How's yours going?

If 2023 is showing you more question marks than periods, fear not. Rest assured that for every season of uncertainty, there will be one of certainty.

Meanwhile, today is National Pizza Day. Have a slice while you ponder today's thought.

For insightful seasons…and yummy foods, I'm always grateful.

What are you thankful for today?

"There are years that ask questions and years that answer."
-Z.N. Hurston

"Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own."
-Matthew 6:34

"The Dalai Lama walks into a pizza store… and says, "Can you make me one with everything?"
-S. Kalwar

Anyone who says that money cannot buy happiness has clearly never spent their money on pizza.
-Andrew W.K.

Share this:

- Share on Facebook (Opens in new window) Facebook
- Share on X (Opens in new window) X
- Share on Pinterest (Opens in new window) Pinterest

- Print (Opens in new window) Print