

Happy leap day! A day where ‘this time last year’ and ‘this time next year’ does not apply.

If you have been contemplating a job that could be a little risky or making a decision that is scary and challenging, wouldn’t this be an appropriate day to take that leap of faith?!

On a related note, the most intense leap of faith you can take is to fall totally in trust with God. No.Matter.What. I took that leap a long, long time ago, when I made the choice to continue the spiritual path my mother had charted for me. Now I can’t seem to breathe without my faith.

For the guidance and push to take the grandest leap of my life, I will forever be grateful to Mami.

What are you thankful for today?

Until next Thursday’s post…si Dios quire.

“For we live by faith, not by sight.”
-2 Corinthians 5:7

“May we learn to walk, leap, bound, fly and soar onward, upward and Godward. Always.”
-J. Marro

“Don’t fear failure so much that you refuse to try new things. The saddest summary of life contains three descriptions: could have, might have, and should have.”
-Unknown

“You chart the path ahead of me and tell me where to stop and rest. Every moment you know where I am. You know what I am going to say before I even say it. You both precede and follow me and place your hand of blessing on my head.”
-Psalm 139:3-5
