

It's Holy Thursday, and I am thankful for what we commemorate and remember today – the institution of the Eucharist and the importance Jesus puts on the humility of service. In the washing of the feet and the giving of His body and His blood we find the true meaning of love and service. For me, tonight's is the most poignant Mass of the year.

This Thankful Thursday we could give thanks for anyone who has brought us to God, and for what they do to keep us close to Him. I, for one, have a bunch of people to thank for that.

“...do this in remembrance of Me.”

~ 1 Corinthians 11:24
