

Because I “get” to. I get to go to work and help provide for my family. I get to do the laundry and have fresh clean clothes. I get to stand in line at the grocery store and have food to eat. I get to sit through jury duty and not live in a communist country. I get to make mistakes and become a little wiser.

Grateful when I’m reminded that my “have-to’s” are not burdens, but really “get-to’s” dressed as opportunities and blessings.

How ‘bout you? What do your have-to’s look like?

“We often miss opportunity because it’s dressed in overalls and looks like work.”
