

May the 4th be with you! Today, Star Wars fans everywhere (yours truly included), use this greeting throughout the day to celebrate this epic saga of good versus evil. Just one of those things we do. For me, though, this pun sparks an immediate reminder of a different kind of force – the grace, mercy, and love of God and the power of the Holy Spirit. That Force. The omnipresence that surrounds us and penetrates our hearts, and allows believers everywhere to strive, to forgive, to hope. Uh-huh. Absolutely, for that Force, I am forever thankful.

So, Star Wars fans, May the 4th be with you! And with us all, always may the Force be! † ?

What are you thankful for today?

“And remember, I am with you always, to the end of the age.”

-Matthew 28:20

“Close your eyes. Feel it. The light...it’s always been there. It will guide you.”

-Maz Kanata, Star Wars: Episode VII – The Force Awakens

Oh, speaking of wordplay phrases, here’s one of my favorites:

“Time flies like an arrow; fruit flies like a banana.” – hehehe...

-A.G. Oettinger

Share this:

- Click to share on Facebook \(Opens in new window\) Facebook
- Click to share on X \(Opens in new window\) X
- Click to share on Pinterest \(Opens in new window\) Pinterest
- Click to print \(Opens in new window\) Print