

Because my life depends on it. Those of you who know me well, know I'm a fairly independent person. Well, except when it comes to bugs, then I fully lean on my hubby to save me. But, long ago I decided, as I heard it said the other day, to "let God out of my Sunday morning box" and take Him with me everywhere. Through it all, from my fears to my joys, I have chosen to believe that God will take care of all that I entrust to Him. Now more than ever, as tomorrow Lauren sets off to Europe for her study abroad program. And so, for my dependence on God, I am so very thankful. Because my life, and my sanity, depend on it.

Please remember that the things that are impossible to men are possible with God. What are you thankful for today?

"Nothing, absolutely nothing, happens 'till parents stop clenching their fists around precious things and people, let go, & trust God!"

-G. Patton

"Faith don't come in a bushel basket, Missy. It come one step at a time. Decide to trust Him for one little thing today, and before you know it, you find out He's so trustworthy you be putting your whole life in His hands."

-Lynn Austin, Candle in the Darkness

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not lean on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make straight your paths."

-Proverbs 3:5-6

Share this:

- Click to share on Facebook \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to share on Twitter \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to share on Pinterest \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to print \(Opens in new window\)