

For those who inspire.

Fact: All of us face adversity in our lives. As I write this and you read it, some of us are probably going through a rough patch. Along the road, we look to others for strength and courage.

When I'm there, I think about my nephew and how he beat and came out of the addiction that almost killed him. I think about my father grinding through pain with a morphine pump attached to his liver, yet putting in a full day's work. I think about my friend Ledys, who laughs through adversity better and louder than anyone I know.

Ordinary people who behave in extraordinary ways. All for love of self and others, and for love of life. My husband and kids included, whose commitment and support, no matter what, propel me to "brave up" every day of my life.

So for those who inspire, those who show that when life gives you lemons you can make the sweetest lemonade, today and always, I am thankful.

Who inspires you? And what are you thankful for today?

Until next Thursday's post...si Dios quiere.

"Beauty is not who you are on the outside, it is the wisdom and time you gave away to save another struggling soul like you."

-S.L. Alder

"Never let hard lessons harden your heart; the hard lessons of life are meant to make you better, not bitter."

-R.T. Bennett

HERE'S TO THOSE WHO INSPIRE US
AND DON'T EVEN KNOW IT.
