

For time off…and the spirit of Christmas.

I'm on holiday, which means I'm off from work. Lovely. [And binge-watching "The Crown"]. Holiday, vacation, break, whatever term we use for it, it's always nice to have one. And for that, I'm grateful.

I want to take this Thankful Thursday opportunity to wish you and your families a wonderful Nochebuena and a very merry Christmas. Although missing like crazy those no longer with us, we rejoice and celebrate with those who are. And what a blessing that is.

From our home to yours, may the presence and love of Christ, and the spirit of Christmas, always fill your hearts.

What are you thankful for today?

Until next Thursday's post…si Dios quiere. Cheerio!

"Take time off…The world will not fall apart without you."
-M. Sephodi

"I realized that tradition is priceless, whether you have a small family, a large family, or no family. Tradition doesn't have to be logical; it only has to emphasize the light of Christ and his everlasting love."
-L. Copeland

"Once in our world, a stable had something in it that was bigger than our whole world."
-C.S. Lewis

Share this:

- Share on Facebook (Opens in new window) Facebook
- Share on X (Opens in new window) X
- Share on Pinterest (Opens in new window) Pinterest
- Print (Opens in new window) Print