

For more wag.

We recently got a dog. Well, more like Lauren showed up with a dog and we somewhat reluctantly allowed it. But now we love Beni. What I love the most about this animal is how happy he gets when he sees us, hyper-wagging his little tail off. And you just can't help but to smile. It instantly pauses, defuses, and soothes a moment. It's a total mood changer.

Anyway, I was thinking that in the midst of these stressful times when everyone seems to be a bit more on edge than usual, it would be wise to put into practice more of our "wagging" and cut out some of our "barking."

To those people in my life who choose to wag more and bark less, I say THANK YOU.

What are you thankful for today?

Until next Thursday's post...si Dios quiere.

"My son, sweeten thy tongue and make savory the opening of thy mouth; for the tail of a dog gives him bread, and his mouth gets him blows."

Share this:

- Click to share on Facebook \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to share on Twitter \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to share on Pinterest \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to print \(Opens in new window\)