

While we awoke all cozied up in our beds this morning, hundreds of less fortunate people woke up today displaced and without their loved ones. They had their lives ripped apart in just moments last weekend by a number of tornadoes.

If the images on TV are grueling to watch, I can't even imagine what it's like on the ground there. Our hearts go out to them and to the first responders coming to their aid. Once again, disaster strikes and, once again, a lot of good people respond. God bless them.

Today, we pray for so many who have lost so much. ☐ What am I thankful for? Me and my loved ones waking up in our cozy beds. Yup.

And you? Wha are you thankful for today?

Until next Thursday's post...si Dios quire.

"Take time daily to reflect on how much you have. It may not be all that you want but remember someone somewhere is dreaming to have what you have."
