

If only I could wiggle my nose like Samanta Stevens...or blink like Jeannie...and poof! make things happen.

Those two ladies had awesome superpowers. Wiggle and the price of gas at the pump would magically drop, blink and peace would reign on Earth, wiggle and everyone would be super healthy...and on and on. If only. But.Not.Happening.

So I do what I know I can do - Pray. And hope. Hope that things get better, that respect, tolerance and fairness make a comeback, that my children and their children have a brighter future, and that our prayer-listening God does some wiggling and blinking of His own, and fast.

The light I see at the end of this tunnel, folks, is being lit by faith alone. I suppose that is my superpower. And I am thankful for that. You can have that too. Just believe with all your might.

What are you thankful for today?

Until next Thursday's post...si Dios quiere.

"Never be afraid to trust an unknown future to a known God."

-Corrie ten Boom

"None of us knows what might happen even the next minute, yet still we go forward. Because we trust. Because we have faith."

-Paulo Coelho

Today's Rx:

If it is beyond you, hand it over to God.

RxfortheSoul

TheSoulSentinel.com

Share this:

- Click to share on Facebook \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to share on Twitter \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to share on Pinterest \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to print \(Opens in new window\)