

It takes lives to save lives. Today, I want to express my sincere gratitude to all organ donors and their families. They turn loss into hope.

As I write this, my co-worker and friend, Ana, is in line and on standby to receive the gift of hope from one of these courageous and generous human beings.

For Ana we pray, and for the wonderful gifts that donors and their loved ones so unselfishly give, we are grateful.

If you're interested in learning about organ donation, visit these pages: organdonor.gov / donatelifeflorida.org

What are you thankful for today?

Until next Thursday's post...si Dios quiere.

"You were born with the ability to change someone's life, don't ever waste it."

"To the world you may be one person. But to one person you may be the world."

-Dr. Seuss

Share this:

- Click to share on Facebook \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to share on Twitter \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to share on Pinterest \(Opens in new window\)
- Click to print \(Opens in new window\)