

Get ready, people, here comes Fall (although you couldn't tell by the current Fahrenheit in Miami). But fear not summer enthusiasts, those endless days will be back soon enough.

Now it's time to embrace a new season and, with it, all the changes it will bring. I'm not a fan of change, and this season's coming with many of them — personally and professionally. But I take heart believing that if life brings me to it, God will see me through it.

It's time again to let loose of a certain degree of status quo, and get busy being grateful for the changes that will come.

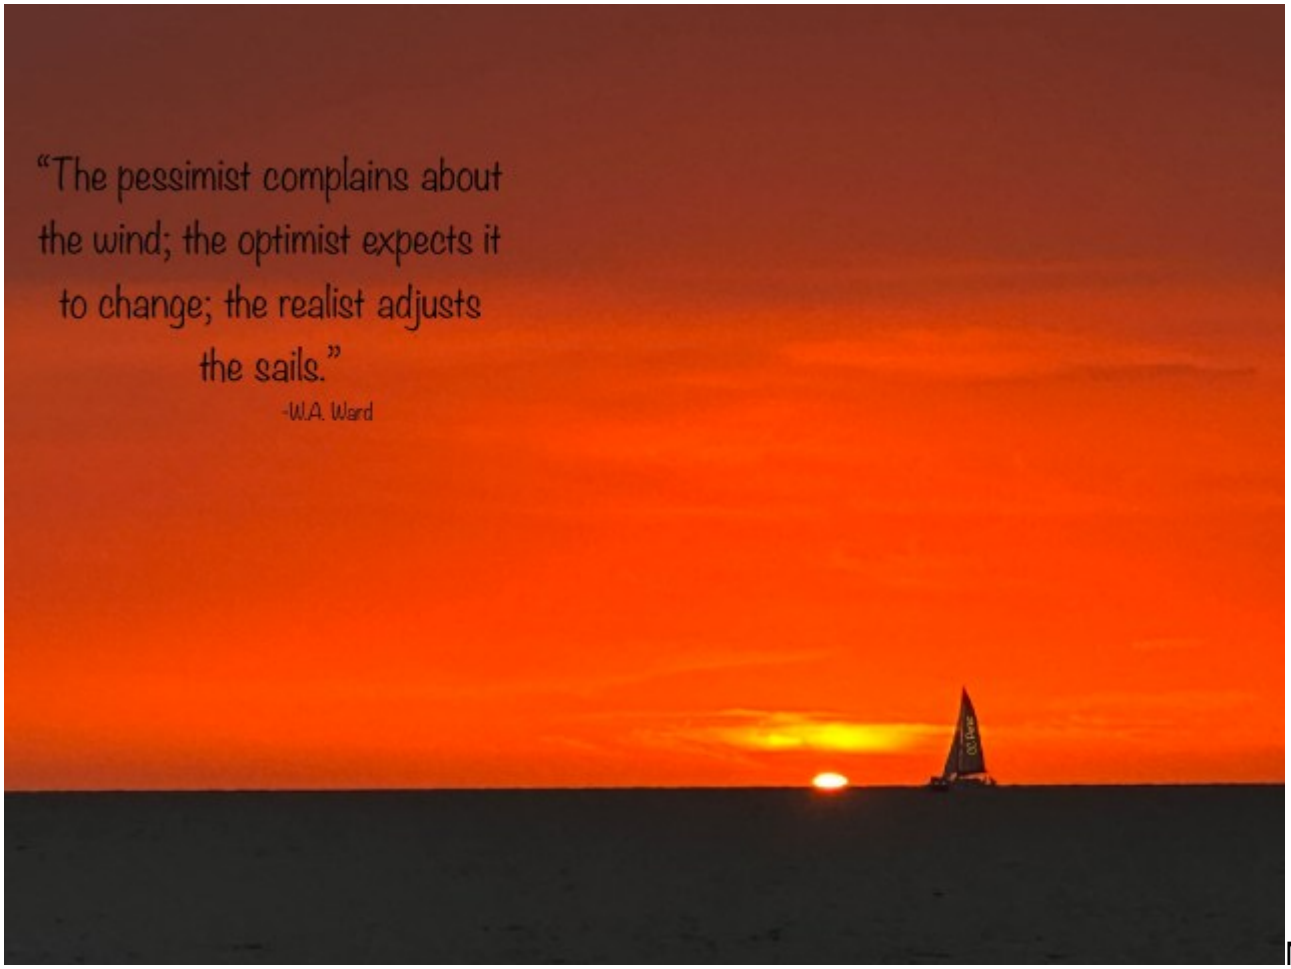

What are you thankful for today?

Until next Thursday's post…si Dios quiere.

"And all at once, summer collapsed into fall."
-Oscar Wilde

"And all the lives we ever lived and all the lives to be are full of trees and changing leaves …"
-V. Wolfe

"I can do all things through him who strengthens me."
-Philippians 4:13

Napl
es, FL

Share this:

- Share on Facebook (Opens in new window) Facebook
- Share on X (Opens in new window) X
- Share on Pinterest (Opens in new window) Pinterest
- Print (Opens in new window) Print