

Not everything has to be monumental to merit a “Thank you, Lord” from us.

Our days are filled with little good things, many little good things that go right. Be aware and recognize them. For me, those simple things may be coffee brewing in the morning, an elevator that didn’t take forever to arrive when I was running late, daily conversations with family, our a/c working (okay that one is monumental ☐). But you get it. Simple, good things. Every day.

In a world where we easily obsess over things, let’s get obsessed with thankfulness. That is powerful.

What are you thankful for today?

Until next Thursday’s post...si Dios quiere.

“When each day is the same as the next, it’s because people fail to recognize the good things that happen in their lives every day that the sun rises.”

-Paulo Coelho

“Enjoy the little things, for one day you may look back and realize they were the big things.”

-R. Brault

Share this:

- Click to share on Facebook \(Opens in new window\) Facebook
- Click to share on X \(Opens in new window\) X
- Click to share on Pinterest \(Opens in new window\) Pinterest
- Click to print \(Opens in new window\) Print