

Today's gratitude post is an easy one for me. Ray and I are celebrating 38 years of marriage. That's 38 years filled with beautiful moments, some weathered seasons here and there, two wonderful kids, and a bunch of real-life lessons that have shaped us along the way.

Kids, take note: respect is everything.
It leads to patience.
Patience leads to understanding.
Understanding leads to grace.

And God's grace is what has kept our love going when life has gotten messy (because it always does).

I'm so grateful for a love that's grown up with us, been tested, and continues to hold us together. I pray for many years of health, laughter and faith.

What milestones are you thankful for today?

Until next Thursday's post...si Dios quiere.

"Respect is one of the greatest expressions of love."
-M. Ruiz

"The best marriages are built on teamwork, mutual respect, and a whole lot of grace."
-Unknown

"Marriage is finding that one special person you want to annoy for the rest of your life."
-Rita Rudner

#728

Share this:

- Share on Facebook (Opens in new window) Facebook

- Share on X (Opens in new window) X
- Share on Pinterest (Opens in new window) Pinterest
- Print (Opens in new window) Print