

This feels a little too relatable, so I had to share. ☐

“A PRAYER FOR THE DAY

Dear God, so far today, I've done all right. I haven't gossiped, and I haven't lost my temper. I haven't been grumpy, nasty, or selfish, and I'm really glad of that! But in a few minutes, God, I'm going to get out of bed, and from then on, I'm probably going to need a lot of help. Thank You! Amen.”

Sometimes the flaws are the very things we end up loving most. The imperfect moments and imperfect people. That's the real stuff. But wow, do we need grace to handle all that!

Let me tell you, the older I get, the more thankful I am for grace. Grateful today for a God who stays patient with all of us.

What are you thankful for today?

Until next Thursday's post... si Dios quiere.

“The flaw is the thing we love.”

“Grace is the face love wears when it meets imperfection.”

-J. Cooke

“I've learned recently to love imperfection a lot because it shines such a big light on God's grace.”
